<http://blog.searchbug.com/2007/04/welcome-to-the-best-people-search-blog/>

I have been thinking about this for a very long time and now it is finally here. It's a place where I can share my random thoughts and insights as they flash into my brain and I tell myself... quick, right that down before you forget it.

It will also become a place where I will be able to make comments and suggestions and even give hints and tips to help you succeed in finding important records and information about businesses and the people you are trying to locate, or are thinking about getting involved with (whether it be a contractor, nanny, or potential business partner or employee).

Whether you're considering a search for the first time or a long time current customer I hope this blog can help answer some questions, shed some light on various topics or even help save you frustration or money.

So what should you expect from my blog? Great question, I'm glad that you asked.

At first I'm not sure about the timing but I hope that at least once a week or at least a couple of times a week, I will be able to share...

1. Updates regarding bestpeoplesearch.com; What is happening with the web site? Are we implementing any new searches soon? Are we adding any new states, is there any legislation that affects what I'm trying to find?
- Sneak Peaks; Be the first to know about new People Searches, phone searches and specialty searches. I may even talk about something before we even create it so you comment about it and let us know if you think it would be a useful tool (Like our new Cell Pinger Services - coming soon).

Plus my personal opinions, thoughts, and insights on numerous different topics including my passion for Internet marketing. You may especially enjoy these if you operate a web site, know a webmaster or you're interested in our affiliate program to earn some extra income from your own site.

If you want to get to know me, or the inner workings of Bestpeoplesearch, or have any interest in getting inside the head of a successful web site owner then this is the place to be!

So once again, welcome and please check back on a regular basis for new and exciting information that will change the face of obtaining information on the Internet.
